Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .It is September, 1918 and the war to end all wars rages in France. On his way back to the Western Front, a young American Army captain from the 69th New York Regiment is waiting anxiously on the platform of London's Waterloo Station. It is there that he spies an old man reading from a crimson text. As the train for Southampton arrives, the old man suddenly speaks. My travel takes me to the end of the line. Your company is welcome within my carriage. The young American accepts the old man's invitation and soon discovers that his traveling companion served with The Irish Brigade during the American Civil War. Through the recitations of this mysterious old man, we bear witness to times of sorrow and adventure. In 1846, Ireland is in the death grip of the great famine, when young Thomas Francis Meagher returns to his native City of Waterford. The son of a wealthy Catholic merchant, he has returned from the Continent to discover that his father has moved the family homestead away from the quay on the River Suir. On a foggy night, while engaged in the pursuit of ladies of the evening, he discovers the reasons why. Suddenly, he is confronted by the pleas of the desperate and the malnourished who are seeking to book passage on a coffin ship bound for America. One of these, a young mother whose children are dying, leads him to the misery of a famine house. It is there that he encounters Brother Edmund and accepts his challenge to help uplift the oppressed of his beloved Ireland. Thereafter, at Dublin's Conciliation Hall, he rises in...
