She was no older than five and was piggybacking her little brother. Her mother had died in the cholera epidemic sweeping England. Her father had never returned from the mines. Standing in the muddy street, this little girl gave a face to Bristols countless orphans. With scarcely enough food or money for his own family, George Mller opened his heart and home. Sustained by Gods provision, the Mller house Breakfast Club of thirty orphans grew to five large houses that Ultimately over ten thousand children would call home. George Mller trusted God with a depth rarely seen. His faith and generosity set a standard for Christians of all generations.
